Of note in my case, printing black is dark/correct when I print a document through MW Word so the printer/toner appears to be capable of operating correctly. It's printing other things, like webpages, where the black is light gray. I've selected B/W printing, but black text is still quite light. So this seems like an incorrect default somewhere.

Step 1, Make sure that your printer is connected and turned on. If your printer connects over Wi-Fi, this will mean making sure that you're on the same Internet network as your printer; otherwise, you'll need to plug your printer's USB cable into your computer. Check your printer's manual to confirm how to set it up if you haven't already done so. Step 2, Open Start . Click the Windows logo in the bottom-left corner of the screen. Step 3, Open File Explorer .
